DEDICATION

Our parents are the people who have shared our heartaches with sympathy and our happiness with joy. They have understood our problems and troubles and have encouraged, taught, influenced, and loved us; and most of all, they have given us their friendship. So it is with pleasure and gratitude that we dedicate this JEWEL ECHOES to our parents.

The Senior Class of nineteen hundred and fifty-six honors a substitute teacher who has proven herself worthy of this dedication. Not only for what she has been to our school, but what she has been to us personally, we shall always be grateful. We appreciate her patience and understanding during our years in school. So it is with deep sincerity and gratitude that we dedicate this annual to-

Class Song

IT'S ALMOST TOMORROW
(With apologies to Gene Atkinson)

It's almost tomorrow,
Then school will be o'er,
And we will return as
Students no more.
The halls will be silent
For we will be gone,
And that's why tonight
We are singing this song.

It's almost tomorrow,
But what can we do?
Tho far away we wander, still
Our hearts will be true.
We'll love you as long
As there's stars in the sky.
But now dear ol' Walnut
We must tell you good-by.

We're leaving our loved ones,
Our teachers, and friends.
But tho we hate parting,
Our school days must end.
But we'll have our memories
To keep through the years.
And so we'll say farewell
And smile through our tears.

Joyce Ramsey

Class Poem

Graduation, A Dream Come True

A dream has reached fulfillment
We're graduates tonight.
Our hopes have grown and blossomed
Like lilies in the night.
No brighter time we'll know
Tho years may come and go,
Than this commencement evening
With candle lights aglow.

Always onward, the trail has led us
From stony paths to mountain heights.
We've overcome the hardships
And kept on going still;
Then loomed a tree so high,
It towered to the sky.
It was the tree of knowledge
And we knew the end was nigh.

So our dream has born us onward,
We have reached our goal today;
The aim of all our years of toil
Now we near the end of the way.
Oh, hours of light sublime,
Dear graduation time,
No words can voice our rapture
That now we've made the climb.

Junior-Senior Banquet '55

Class History

Chapter One

The history of the class of '56 of Walnut High School, county of Madison, state of North Carolina, had its beginning like most classes.

It was the year of 1952, August 25, that thirty-six frightened and humble Freshmen began their tread down that long rocky road of education. Mr. Ralph E. Neill, Principal, and Mr. Jon Buckner had the task of leading us into the world of learning as Freshmen. During our Freshman year, such problems as war, marriage, and weakness of mind caused many to fall by the wayside. They were: Thelma Fiedler who moved to Pennsylvania, Maxine Payne who married and now has two children, Alma Lee Shelton who is staying at home, William Roberts who is now serving in the Army and B.H. Roberts who is also in the Army.

Chapter Two

Our second year at good old Walnut High was reigned over by Mr. Ralph E. Neill.

Our class was led again by Mr. Jon Buckner, who guided us into High School. Other instructors were Mr. Ralph E. Neill, Principal, Mrs. Epps McClure, Mrs. Hettie Rice, and Mr. Ormand C. Williams. Several more dropped by the wayside. They were: Virginia Tweed who married Jimmie Davis and has a child and is living in Michigan, J.C. Thomas who is in the U.S. Navy, Rose Lee Bullman who is married and has a child, Billy Davis who is in the Air Force, Ted Baker who now is in the Army, Ella Mae Capps who is working in Asheville, and Pansy Cody who is married and has a child.

Chapter Three

Our third year at good old Walnut was again over by Mr. R.E. Neill. Our class was led by Mr. Glen Painter. It was this year, when we, the Juniors, bid farewell to the Seniors at the annual Junior-Senior banquet, that we realized that we would soon be taking their place. Our teachers were: Mr. Louie Zimmerman, Mrs. Hettie Rice, Mr. Ormand C. Williams, Mr. Glen Painter and Mr. R.E. Neill, principal. This year we lost Vanda Bullman who is married and David Blackwell who now is in the Army.

Chapter Four

After dropping members all along, we now have twenty-three who have stayed together to attain the title of Seniors.

Our last milestone of learning is led by a very fine person, Mrs. Hettie B. Rice. Mr. R.E. Neill is principal. Other teachers are Mrs. Robert Barefoot, Mrs. Dorothy B. Shupe, Mr. Louie Zimmerman, Mr. Ormand Williams, Mr. Ray Sawyer, and Mr. Jack Cole.

At last came that day we had awaited for twelve long years, our day of graduation. The diplomas, the tears, the good-byes--these things we can never forget. They mark the end of something very dear to all of us, the years which have molded and shaped us into what we are and are to be.

So again, a little scared and forlorn, we leave the familiar and face the new. The future is before us and we have much upon which to build it.

Emma Thomas, Class Historian

Class Prophecy

As I sit here, pencil in hand, my mind begins to wander into the far future. I am traveling through the air in a new jet airplane. What a surprise I have when landing to see the pilot, who is none other than James Roberts. He invites me to have lunch with him and says he has a surprise for me. We walk into a beautiful restaurant. Inside there is only blue light and the floors are of transparent glass with tropical fish swimming underneath. The tables also are of glass so that people can watch the fish while eating. I was greatly astonished when I saw the owner of the beautiful place was none other than Patsy McDevitt. The scene quickly fades and I am standing in a huge corn field. The owner, Robert Rigsby, is showing me a new kind of corn he is growing. As my mind wanders on, I am walking down a street in Brooklyn when I notice a sign which says, "Barber Wanted, or if you don't want to work for my buy my shop and I'll work for you, owner Lowell Buckner." As I walk on I come to a very exquisite dress shop. Standing in the window modeling an evening gown I see Irma Chandler. As the scene again changes I am standing on a huge bridge looking down into the water. This bridge was built by Robert Reeves who has carried out his ambition to become a great engineer. My mind often wanders onto the subject of food. I see Bobby Capps standing in his large super market watching the Saturday shoppers pushing their push carts and listening to the ring of the cash registers as he gradually becomes a little richer. Next I see a class room. At the desk is Joyce Ramsey telling her pupils what a thrill it is to be teaching some of the children of her old classmates of 1956. The scene shifts and I seem to be floating. I am on a navy ship. As I look about I see a man swabbing the decks. It is Chester Bullman doing his duty as a sailor. This scene is replaced by another. I seem to see an island and standing on this island alone is Creola Henderson. Seems as though she has had a bitter love life and is just trying to get away from it all. This scene fades and I see chickens, thousands of chickens. I am at McClelland Rice's chicken farm and he is telling me about his idea for raising wingless chickens. As I look down I see a huge saw mill which is owned by Frank Cantrell. Next I find myself seated at a table surrounded by very distinguished looking men. One is making a speech. He is Boyce Ramsey campaigning for governor. As this scene fades into the unknown I find myself in a little radio and television repair shop. I am greeted by Dayton Wild who is doing very well in his business. As I enter the next business establishment, a book store, I notice a very fine novel by none other than "Noveless" Evelyn Caldwell. Looking on into the future I find myself at a circus. High in the air is a clown riding a bicycle on the tight wire. When the suspense is over I find that the very funny clown is Charles Lunsford. Next I find myself in a theater, which is filled with young people, mostly boys. There is a beautiful blond girl on the screen. Seems like she is becoming more popular than ever. This girl has a new name, but she is none other than Joan Hollifield. As this scene fades I find myself standing in a hospital corridor. Coming toward me is a nurse. As she comes closer I see that it is Emma Thomas. She says that she is very happy being able to help other people. Suddenly I find myself in a very large city. I am going into a large automobile factory to visit an old friend, Gerald Marler, who has just become Vice-President of the company. In this same city I see another old classmate of mine, Sue Ollie Cook. She is now secretary of her husband who is a dentist. I next find myself in a huge crowd. It is New Years Day and I am at the Rose Bowl football game. Everyone is cheering a young player as the teams are coming on the field for the last half. The star player is Jimmy Snelson. This scene fades and I see a lake lined with beautiful cabins. Evelyn Roberts and her husband have built a summer camp for underprivileged children. She is very happy being able to help such children along with her husband. Suddenly I realize that a research engineer at Radio Corporation of America must work as well as dream to hold a job.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1956, being sound of "crammed" mind and energetic body do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament, herein relinquishing any promises and claims made by us at anytime heretofore, as the thoughtless wish of an idle hour.

We do hereby dispose of our possessions as follows: To the school, we leave our love and loyalty for seeing us through the long and sometimes difficult years, and to the faculty our heartiest thanks for putting up with us.

To the Juniors we leave our beloved teacher, Mrs. Rice. To the Sophomores we leave the fun we had studying Macbeth; and to the Freshmen we leave our ability to get "into" trouble.

I, Emma Thomas, will my ability to get along with the teachers to my brother, Buddy; my love for all sports to Janice Ledford; and my reputation as most bashful to Judy Henderson.

I, Dayton Wild, will my ability to play the guitar to William Thomas and my running around to Jerry Buckner.

I, Creola Henderson, will my ability to become engaged to Ruth Ann Lewis and my good grades to Paula Roberts.

I, Boyce Ramsey, will all my girl friends, except one, to my brother, Donny; and my ability to play football to Waldon Roberts.

I, Bobby Capps, will my class superlative, the most bashful, to Alvin Craine and my job in the lunchroom to anyone who can get it.

I, Chester Bullman, will my place on the basketball team to anybody who can get it and my car to my brother, Monroe.

I, J.E. Lewis, will anything I have to anybody that desires it.

I, Jimmy Snelson, will my athletic ability to James Anderson, and all my girl friends, except one, to the Freshman boys.

I, Frank Cantrell, will my reputation as the biggest flirt to Danny Roberts.

I, Robert Rigsby, will my bus to anybody that is big enough to take it.

I, Robert Reeves, will my quarterback position to Edwin "Romeo" Stines; my good grades to my brother, George; my nickname "Crazy Arm" to Martha Ann McDevitt; and all my girls, except one, to the Freshman boys.

I, Joyce Ramsey, will my other half (Boyce) to Louise Goldsmith; my ability to get engaged to Judy Ramsey, and my dreams to anyone who can make them come true.

I, Joan Hollifield, will my nickname, "Marilyn", to Betty Johnson; and all my boy friends to anyone who can take them away from me.

I, Gerald Marler, will my rambling to Robert Baker and my girls to J.C. Worley.

I, James Roberts, will my reputation as loudest in the class to Rollan Bullman, my athletic ability to Charles Buckner, and all my girl friends to anyone who can find them.

I, Evelyn Roberts, will my position as "best all around" to my brother, Leonard; my ability to get along with the teachers to Queen Falkner; and my dreams to anyone who can fulfill them.

I, Sue Ollie Cook, will my grades, such as they are, to Sheila Roberts; my "love" for Algebra 11 to Donnie Ramsey; and my ability to go steady to Mary Lou Ramsey.

I, Evelyn Caldwell, will my reputation as most dignified to Gladys Worley, my ability to be "good" at all times to my sister, Merlene, and all my boy friends to anyone who can find where they're hidden.

I, McClelland Rice, will my ability to play football to Charles McDevitt, my Beta Club Membership card to Bruce Roberts, my ability to get along with the teachers to my sister, Othella.

I, Charles Lunsford, will my reputation as most carefree to Gene Cantrell and my girl friends to anyone who can stand them.

I, Patsy McDevitt, will my driver's license to Louise Goldsmith, my love for Algebra 11 to Rosemary Sawyer, and my title "Miss Walnut High" to Paula Roberts.

I, Lowell Buckner, will my athletic ability to Paul Norton and my bus to Jerry Buckner.

GOODALL SOUTHERN DIVISION

OPPORTUNITIES...

... in the industrial world today are unlimited. Automation, atomic energy, a rapidly increasing population -- all point to a period of unprecedented growth in the industrial life of the nation.

Like many others, the textile industry is just scratching the surface of its own latter-day revolution, which began less than a quarter century ago with the introduction of man-made fibers.

Burlington Industries pioneered in production of fabrics from man-made fibers, and has today grown to be one of the world's leading textile concerns.

For young men and women thinking in terms of a career, the textile industry today offers opportunity "without bounds" in manufacturing, merchandising, research, development and design, and many other related fields.
